

The Puppet Master Index 1946 – 2017

Produced for the British Puppet & Model Theatre Guild and the National Puppetry Archive by
Ray DaSilva

Introduction

The Puppet Master has been produced continuously by the Guild since 1946, sometimes monthly, bimonthly, haphazardly and then annually. Before World War II the Guild published Notes and News, and then during the war The Wartime Bulletin. Most people will not be aware of the amount of work undertaken by the succession of editors over the years, especially in the pre-digital age –even so, the standard enjoyed for the last 20 years using computers, scanners etc is still no mean feat. We owe them all a great debt for providing a record of Guild members' work and also of other puppetry activities in Britain, together with news, views and technical articles –some of which the editors had to write themselves when efforts to cajole others to contribute had not been sufficiently fruitful. Much of the material could be seen as ephemeral but it is an important record which will exist long after Kindles have become obsolete and will form a part of our National Puppetry Archive. It is this lasting record which is so valuable for archivists and researchers. There have been numerous occasions when we have been asked for information relating to a long-deceased puppeteer by someone researching family history, or by a puppeteer looking to solve a technical problem: the leads and answers have been found in the pages of The Puppet Master. We therefore also appreciate the many contributors for sharing information and knowhow. This index of 144 issues to date should help you to find that, often elusive, 'somewhere'.

How the index works

The references are shown thus: 15/9/4* which identifies volume 15, issue 9, page 4. The asterisk indicates an article containing a photograph –which were not so numerous in the early issues. Articles with other illustrations, line drawings etc, are indicated by a circumflex like this: 8/3/13^.

A slight complication is the series of four volumes (26 issues) prior to the current series. In order to identify them the references from the first series begin with a solidus (forward slash). For example; /2/3/4 indicates volume 2, issue 3, page 4 of the first series; whereas 2/3/4 relates to the same location in the current series. Where the centre pages of illustrations in the first series were not numbered, the page number immediately previous has been used.

It was impractical to reference every time a person's name appears otherwise this index would have taken years instead of months to prepare, and run into many more pages. Similarly, listings of companies' bookings and many names of plays, skits and variety turns have been limited to those felt to be particularly significant. The downside of this is that names of many people who helped at exhibitions and did occasional turns at Guild meetings have not, with regret, received a mention at all. So I apologise for those left out.

Contributors of articles are shown in bold type, and the list of references beneath their names may also include reviews of their performances and articles about them written by others. Names of productions which include puppetry are listed in italics.

This index has been compiled over a period of several months and you will doubtless find imperfections, inconsistencies and idiosyncrasies in the choice of entries. It does however take into account the occasional errors in the consecutive numbering of issues by using the identifiers supplied by the late Guild Archivist, Tom Howard. Ambiguities in the numbering are identified in the authenticated list of issues below by referring to the front cover illustration.

I realise that only a few people will have the need for this index, but my hope is that future archivists and researchers will find it a useful aid to their work.
